Theme

Students, teachers, administrators, and all school personnel are made up of individuals. Every day, in one building, thousands of people with millions of characteristics pool their personalities and talents and make up the picture opening to you. Each of these persons can be called an individual and has a set of unique values which sets him apart from any other in the school. Each of these persons gives a little of this individuality to make Guilderland Central High School more than a storehouse of facts. The students give of their youth, enthusiasm, and quest for knowledge. The teachers and administrators give of their experience, knowledge, and wisdom. Through the process of education Guilderland has helped its students to grow in knowledge, wisdom, and individuality. Their responses to the daily challenge have been rewarding and memorable. This book is a dedication to, and a reflection of, every individual who has joined in this process.

Curriculum

The faculty has an immense job at Guilderland. They have to cultivate the mind of each individual—because each individual requires a different attitude. The faculty at Guilderland come from various backgrounds, but all of them have a thing in common—a desire to help and instruct. They are guided by their enthusiasm for their job. It is this one important unique element that raises Guilderland's curriculum so high. The teachers and administrators add a touch of imagination and life to the courses offered at Guilderland.

Guilderland is lucky to be able to offer a number of very interesting and different courses aside from the required ones. Extra courses in all departments allow for the individual development of each student.

The knowledge is at their fingertips, but it is the faculty's individual interpretation of this knowledge that makes the whole prospect of education so exciting and "alive."

Superintendent of Schools

Mr. Alton U. Farnsworth

Though education often seems to be but a group, schools must exist for the individual. Teachers and administrators most successful in meeting students needs do so through working with individuals, bringing educational processes and problems into the life experiences of the student.

A school superintendent, too, becomes group oriented. He works with a group of individuals organized as a unit as a board of education; with an administrative group; teachers group; lay and parent groups, and others. This sometimes clouds his paramount responsibility which is to promote all policies and techniques of education most beneficial to each individual student. To meet this responsibility, the superintendent should promote a philosophy of education with both his staff and the district to provide for the total growth of the student. Once this philosophy is accepted, he must then provide staff and resources to implement a plan to meet individual needs.

If a school district is to be truly excellent, it must be dedicated to meeting the needs and problems of individual students. The superintendent must assume the leadership in such a program. He must be constantly alert to other duties which drain away time from his primary responsibility of the best education for every student in the district he serves. If this can be done, then the opportunity is there for a superintendent of schools to affect the growth of every individual student.

Administration

Seated: T. McCracken, A. Hahn, B. Carmen, R. Smith. Standing: E. Rafferty, W. Fick, E. Fassett.
Absent: Mrs. Briggs, D. Selee.

Mr. Shands

Mr. Quintara

Mr. Alland

Top: Mrs. Claus, Mrs. O'Brien, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Bell.
Bottom: Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. Crounse, Mrs. Marion.

The school board and administration are an active part of the school. Each member of the administration has a definite effect on each student.

Mr. Shands is responsible for the smooth operation of the business dealings of the district. Mr. Alland coordinates the curriculum of the various schools. Mr. Quintana oversees the maintenance of the district's school. The combined efforts of these people keep the district running efficiently.

Principal's Message

Mr. Donald Carlson—Principal

How can we protect the dream that each person can remain an individual midst the sea of humanity? How can we retain an identity of "me" and "I" in a world of ever enlarging numbers in family, classes, age groups and community? The first two steps to meet this challenge are to be (a) realistic about goals, and (b) to recognize the size of the problem. The masses, the "Group Mind," the "Lonely Crowd" are already here hemming individualism in and closing out opportunities for privacy, solitude, small group identification, and "getting away from it all." Individuality can be maintained however by: (a) an increased solicitude for the personal self, (b) stressing the values of human dignity, (c) the acceptance of individual differences, (d) emphasizing the maximum potential of the person, and (e) showing a person interdependence with the group.

This amounts to faith in the worth of each human creature, faith in his capacity to learn, and faith in the Human Family to apply intelligence to resolve conflicts.

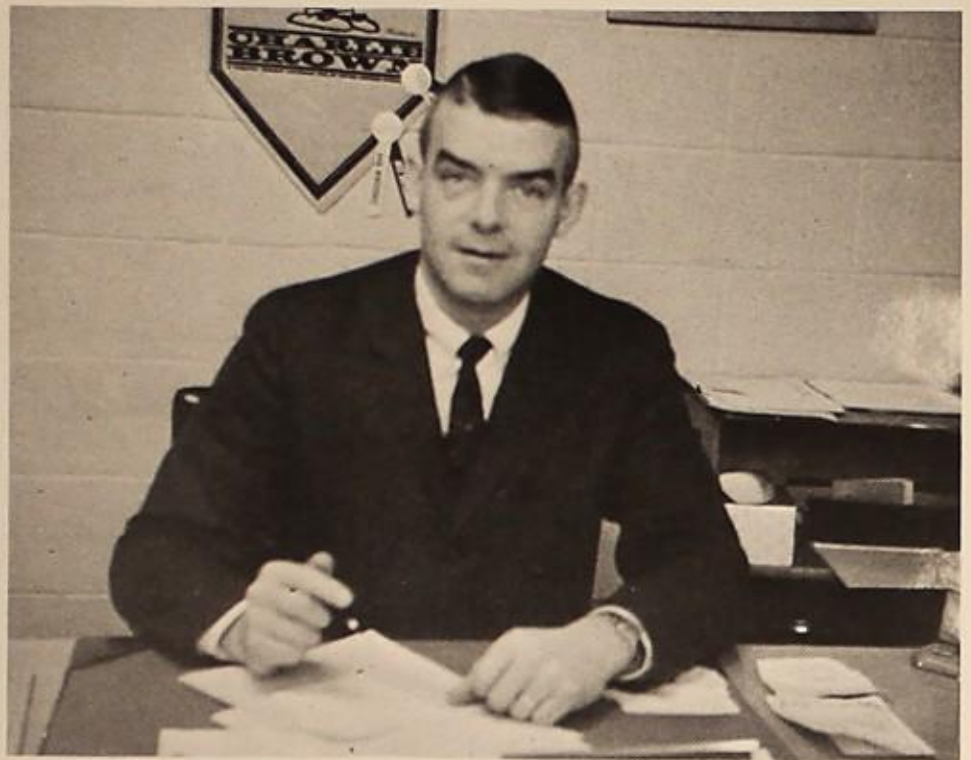

Mr. Carlson confers on office business.

Assistant Principal

Mr. Kavanaugh checks the halls.

Mr. Normon Kavanaugh—Assistant Principal

With Mr. Ciaccio on leave, Mr. Carlson replaced him leaving yet another vacancy in our main office. With the addition of Mr. Kavanaugh though, the spot has once more been filled. Because his duties include such items as supervision of attendance, adult education, transportation, and discipline, Mr. Kavanaugh finds able help from such teachers as Mr. Rothstein and Mr. Pryor. The students are glad to find such an understanding administrator as Mr. Kavanaugh at Guilderland.

Office Secretaries

Among the most appreciated people in our school are Mrs. Twombly and Mrs. Cornelly, the office secretaries. They help to lessen the work of Mr. Carlson and Mr. Kavanaugh, and help the students whenever they can.

Mrs. Hazel Cornelly and Mrs. Ronda Twombly

Kneeling: R. Pahl, F. Milo, W. Rosenberger, G. Fisher, H. Curtis, P. Roberts, F. Mosall, W. Goeode. Standing: R. Hoffman, Supervisor, K. VanAlstyne, C. Van der Wouden, P. Johnston, L. Fischer, E. MacDonald, O. Johnson, M. Strever, J. Antalek, E. Saddlemire, R. Grippin.

Custodians

Although most students take their services for granted, we owe the custodians a debt of gratitude for cleaning and maintaining a sanitary and efficient building for us to enjoy. They are always here to help the student with any problem he might have. The custodial staff is a definite part of the school.

Mrs. Burke, P. Castles, E. Smith, B. Plue, L. Barry, J. Crousier D. Robinson.

Cafeteria

P. Cunningham, B. Daniels, R. Perez, I. Sholpes, B. Coffey, D. Ciraola, T. Kilmade.

To provide the students of Guilderland with well balanced lunches, the staff prepares the food into interesting meals. The preparation of these meals requires a great deal of time and work and the cafeteria staff deserves recognition for their efforts.

Mrs. Mosall—Dietician
Mrs. Vrooman—Clerk

Mrs. Tuft, Mrs. Herchenroder, E. Regan.

The people in the IBM office save the faculty and administration many hours through the use of their valuable and complex machines. Their role in computer programming has become an indispensable part of Guilderland, and it promises to become even more important in the future.

Mrs. Betty Rice

Mrs. Mary Duszkievicz
Secretary

At Guilderland there are four guidance counselors. They are extras—extra people who do not have a highly defined task to carry out with each pupil. They are free to work with each student as an individual—to help him in any way he wishes to be helped. How the counselor assists a student varies. For some he is only a source of information concerning educational and vocational requirements; for others he is a close friend, a confidant or a source of inspiration. For all he is open—open to discuss each individual's needs and to use his talents and training to assist the student meet these needs. The varying needs among today's students makes assisting each individual a challenge for counselors.

Library

Miss Dolores Ropke
Librarian

Mr. Cullen finishes his research.

Books are the keys to our knowledge. Each book we open helps us to gain knowledge. Without the library and its assistants, Miss Ropke, Mr. McMahon, and Mrs. Asch, our minds might be blank.

Miss Ropke is always there to lend a helping hand in finding a good book, film strip, record or tape for you.

The library seems to grow more and more each year. The shelves are being filled with more and more books, but somehow Miss Ropke finds a space for each and every one of them.

In the library you will find not only Miss Ropke, but the card catalog, vertical files, the periodical index and a multitude of books. If you open a book you might find that key to knowledge.

Business Education

The business department trains and prepares the individual for careers in the business world. Guilderland provides a large range of business courses. This includes typing, shorthand, business math, bookkeeping, business law, stenograph, and distributive education. On-the-job training supplements these classroom courses. Students work in the school store and help out in the offices. Their skills are also appreciated by many of the extracurricular activities.

Physical Education

The Physical Education Department exposes all students to a wide variety of physical activities, everything from basketball to folk dancing, from volleyball to wrestling. The department seeks to develop each person to his fullest extent. In addition, it encourages an individual to find a certain game that he can play well and to develop his skill in it. This development is usually brought about through intramurels or through ninth period sports. In all, the department hopes to produce young people sound in body as well as mind and thus, better equipped to face the challenges of the world.

Music coming from all directions surrounds a person walking down the hall eighth period. The practice rooms have overflowed into the teacher's cafeteria and onto the stage. Here the students are developing their own individual talents in music, whether it be playing a jazz clarinet or singing a perfect run from the "Messiah." By exposing each student to both contemporary and classical works, the Music department seeks to help him discover just where his talents lie. Each student is offered the opportunity of taking lessons in their own field, and aid and instruction are always available eighth periods. By doing this, the Music department hopes to enable a student to be so equipped that he can participate in a college or community music group.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

At Guilderland five languages are taught. These languages enable the individual to gain a greater knowledge of a language different from his own. Our school is fortunate to have a modern language lab which is an important supplement to classroom sessions and modern textbooks. Foreign films and literature are also provided by the school. The experience gained from taking part in Guilderland's excellent language program, and learning about the language and culture of a foreign country, will be a great aid to the student for the rest of his life.

Individualism on the part of the art students is developed by the problems given by their teachers and their self-motivated interest. Whether in Basic Art or Interior Design the students prove capable and creative in their respective fields.

Talent is only part of a creation. Most of a finished product is composed of long hours and hard work. The Art Department is very fundamental to the development of the individual student.

Driver Education

Driver Education has been taught at Guilderland since 1954. Over 1000 high school pupils and adults have completed the course. The objection of the popular course is to develop within all pupils the proper attitude necessary for safe and efficient driving. This year the Driver Education department is trying to help the individual face the challenge of learning how to drive and how to stay alive and happy.

Mr. Robert Rourke
Special Education

Throughout the school year, the special education program at Guilderland has provided for some new innovations for its students. With the co-operative planning of the Home Economics department and the Guidance office, the students have planned and maintained their own kitchen area, and have developed and constructed a number of classroom furnishings. Also through a program of occupational education, they have participated in an actual work-study program within the school and the community. All of these things are trying to help the pupils to live a better life.

Health

Miss Schmidt and Mrs. Craw pick their next "victim."

The Health Office is a "peaceful" haven for too-hard-of-a-test and failed-to-do-homework students, and even some ill ones. Only one change has come over the office, and the students have not been known to complain about it. Mrs. Craw has replaced Mrs. Jenner as nurse this year, and although Mrs. Jenner is missed, Mrs. Craw has filled her place with ease. With the help of Miss Schmidt, our dental hygienist, our teeth are kept clean and healthy, and she gives us advice when needed. The excellent staff of Guilderland's Health Office is welcomed by all.

The History Department enables the student to gain a deeper understanding of the political, economic, and social institutions of the United States and the world. It gives the student the ability to cope with the modern world and the situations he will encounter after school. SCIENCE

The Science Department has always given their students the opportunity to work on their own. Lab sessions have increased the independence of the student by allowing him to formulate theories and calculations on an individual basis. Science projects and fairs have enabled the more scientific student to express himself creatively in a specific topic of individualistic interest. In this way the Science Department has seen to it that students can work on their own.

Seniors

Suddenly the "future" has become today! No longer are we freshmen, but seniors, with the privileges and responsibilities that come with the senior status. As the graduating class of 1968, we are challenged to express our individuality and still consider the best interests of the school and our community. We are busy planning our post-graduation futures. For some of us the challenge is undertaking a job as the start of a career. For others, it is joining the armed services, or choosing a college to further our education. Each of us will look back at Guilderland Central High School and the people we have known here. At times we will wish we were back, or perhaps we will long to see our old friends again. If we are nostalgic perhaps it is because we know we will leave behind treasured moments. We are thankful for the guidance of parents and teachers, but we realize that the responsibility for our future is our own.

The students on this page are some of the outstanding seniors who have contributed to making Guilderland an institution of high academic standing. Through conscientious effort, they have maintained the ten highest averages in their class. They are not only leaders in the academic field, but also in extracurricular activities. Self-satisfaction and the knowledge that they have successfully met a challenge and assumed all their responsibilities as students is their reward. The Tawasenthan staff extends to them its sincere congratulations.

Underclassmen

Guilderland is indebted to the Underclassmen for their avid participation in, and support of, school activities this year. Individual achievements rank high in all areas from academic to athletic. The Underclassmen show great promise for the future.

The sophomores, who are the largest of the classes, have rapidly become an important part of the student population at Guilderland. If they continue to work as hard in the future as they have this year, then they will be certain to enjoy success, and their remaining two years will be rewarding. Every one of them is "ready, willing, and able" to face the many challenges of the future.

Juniors have no need to worry about being prepared for their last year at Guilderland. They, too, have worked hard and well, especially on the Junior Prom and the magazine drive. Their efforts and their academic achievements will insure them a successful senior year.

The members . . .

Class Officers: Mike Havern—Vice-President; Bob MacDowell—Treasurer; Phyllis West—Secretary; Ian Brown—President.

The Junior Class this year has been a very lively and successful group. Under the capable guidance of Mr. Pryor, Class Advisor, they have succeeded in attaining a majority of their goals.

Class Officers this year include Ian Brown—President; Mike Havern—Vice-President; Phyllis West—Secretary; and Bob MacDowell—Treasurer.

This year the class reached an outstanding amount of sales in the annual magazine drive. Class members strived to sell well over the proposed goal. In February, the class held a candy sale, which proved to be worth while. The Prom, which was held in the spring, required a great deal of time from class members. The final results of the Prom turned out to be worth all the effort it required.

After a successful junior year, the Juniors have many ambitions for an eventful senior year, including plans for free senior yearbooks, a senior banquet, and a successful Senior Ball. The class is eagerly anticipating their last year and hope to establish new traditions in Guilderland through continued perseverance of their goals.

On September 7, 1967, 433 of us entered G.C.H.S. ready to begin our sophomore year. After a couple of weeks of confusion and "fears" of the upperclassmen, we had made new friends and grown accustomed to the standard high school routine.

Under the leadership of our hard-working class advisor, Mr. Thomas, and class officers, Pres., Nancy Cambell, Vice Pres., Sharon Hamm, Sec., Andy Allendorph, and Treas., Cindy Lapham, we got off to a good start. Our candy drive in the fall and a bake-sale in the early spring were successful. The traditional Soph. Hop was held in the spring also. Everyone who attended had a good time and it proved to be a successful dance.

Our class took an active interest in extra-curricular activities. The J.V. Soccer team and the J.V. Basketball team were both undefeated. Our J.V. Football team also had a successful season.

As our sophomore year comes to an end, we look back at it as a rewarding experience. We look forward to our junior year, hoping our Junior Prom and magazine drive will both be great successes.

We extend our congratulations to this year's graduating class. We wish them the best of luck.

Sports

Sports are an essential vibrant part of the lives of all Guilderland students. Whether it is a gym class that helps to relax a student during the day, or an exciting tense moment of an important game, sports involve many students.

Guilderland's athletic teams consist of individuals who work together as a group. As a result of each individual putting forth his best effort in the sport that he excels in, Guilderland achieved a high rating in many competitive sports.

There are many various sports that a student may participate in. This gives the students a chance to find a sport which he finds particularly more challenging than any other. Guilderland offers many unusual competitive sports, such as gymnastics, as well as the ones which every high school has. Tennis, golf, volleyball, and bowling are some of the highlighting sports that make Guilderland Central High School's athletics exciting and unique.

This year's Guilderland Central cross-country team finished with one of the most successful seasons ever. In dual competition the team finished with seven wins and five losses.

In addition to four dual meets at home on the 2.35 mile high school course, the team went to four invitational meets; namely, the Proctor Invitational at Utica, the Grout Memorial run in Schenectady, the Cobleskill Invitational, and the Suburban Council meet at Niskayuna.

In multi-team meets the Section II, Class "A" race on Nov. 4 stood as the team's strongest finish of the season. Guilderland finished eighth out of the 16 schools represented, avenging previous losses to Gloversville and Scotia. In 1966 the Dutchmen placed 13th of 16.

Individually, Capt. Rick Liese's record-breaking time of 12.34 on the Guilderland course against Lansingburgh stands as the outstanding performance by a Guilderland runner. The former record was held by Rich Langford of Voorheesville, set on the previous Friday.

Guilderland Central's varsity soccer team achieved two firsts this past autumn in becoming the high school's first undefeated varsity team and, at the same time, annexing the school's first Section II title.

The booters copped their second Suburban Council crown in the past three years with a league record of 15-0-1 and an overall mark of 18-0-1.

Under the guidance of Coach Snyder, the Big Red developed into the most awesome scoring machine in the area, scoring 67 goals in the 19 games played while allowing only 12. Goalie Don Schinnerer held the opponent scoreless 10 times, breaking the old mark of 9 set two years ago by Pat Kill. Fullbacks Bill Cravotta, John Hornbach, and Bob Goodrich were the mainstay of the Dutchmen defense, while high scorers Bob Mattice, Mark Havis, and Rich Gifford finished 1-2-3 in the area scoring column with 16, 15, and 14 goals, respectively.

After finishing the first half of the season with an 8-0 record, the Dutchmen were tied by a fine Burnt Hills team, 3-3, for the only blemish on their otherwise perfect mark. The Guilders shut out Niskayuna next, 5-0, and then beat perennial foe Mohonasen, 3-1, to firmly establish their hold on first place. The defense then put together a string of four consecutive shutout victories before defeating a determined Shaker eleven, 3-2, in a double overtime thriller.

Three shutout victories in the sectionals, including a 4-0 revengeful rout of Burnt Hills, brought the Dutchmen their first sectional title and the recognition they deserved as the best soccer team in Section II.

The jayvees, under Coach McCarthy, copped their third league championship in five years of soccer competition with an equally impressive record of 15-0-1. Bill Macali and Tim Playford led the team and the league with 15 goals apiece while the defense, led by goalie Bill Lochner and fullbacks Ian Brown, Tom Hornbach, and Harry Baumes, held the opposition to an incredible low of 4 goals in 16 games. The team also set a record for shutouts with thirteen.

Dutchmen Gridders place third

The Guilderland Central Varsity football team experienced a rebuilding year in 1967. With only two seniors in the starting lineup, the Dutchmen still proved to be a factor in the Council race and provided tough competition throughout the entire season. The team finished third in the Council with a 5-3 record, averaging 112 yards rushing per game and 64 yards passing. The Guilderland defense was sixth out of 24 area high schools, quite an accomplishment for the Junior studded squad.

Quarterback Paul Begley scored the only touchdown as the Dutchmen won their first game of the season, 7-0, over a stubborn Mohonasen eleven. The red and white were shutout in their next two games, however, losing 27-0 to Niskayuna and 19-0 to Council champion Bethlehem Central.

An undefeated Colonie team came to Guilderland looking for an easy game, but the final score gave the homestanding Dutchmen a 7-0 upset victory and a 2-2 Council record. Newcomer Burnt Hills was the next victim as Ron Debenedetti ran wild in a 28-7 win.

The Homecoming game against Columbia was almost identical to the previous game as Debenedetti received the K-N Back of the Week Award for the second consecutive week for his role in a 34-14 rout.

The Dutchmen acquired the nickname, "The Giant Killers", after their stunning 13-0 upset over defending champion Shaker which needed the win to clinch a tie for the league title.

A pepped up Scotia squad held the Dutchmen scoreless in the final game of the season as they earned a third place with Guilderland as a result of their 21-0 win.

Guilderland's 1967 Varsity track team had one of its finest seasons in recent years. Although the team finished with a 4-6 dual meet record, there were many bright spots for the Dutchmen and chances for more to come.

Freshman Jim Murphy showed great potential as he came within .2 seconds of the school record with a 10.4 clocking in the 100 yard dash. Senior Bill Lockwood came within .6 seconds of breaking the 440 record with a time of 53.0, and Sophomore Ron Debenedetti broke the pole vault mark with a vault of 12'10". Other highlights included Jim Rulison's 4:39 mile, Rick Liese's 2:06 half mile, and the performance of Guilderland's mile medley team in the Sectionals. The team, consisting of Lockwood, Murphy, Fred Munro, and Liese, took a third place and missed the school record by one second. Debenedetti reached the finals in the Sectionals, and he traveled to Buffalo to appear in the State meet there.

With only four seniors graduating, this years team has all the potential to have a tremendous year. Guilderland track is still fairly young in its growth, but one can be sure that the future holds plenty in store for the young Dutchmen team.

Bowlers' enthusiasm increases each year.

Guilderland Central's bowling team lost a number of fine players due to last year's graduation, but Coach Bibbons managed to come up with another good team despite the losses. Kim Satong was the only returning letterman, and he led the team in average with a 157 and a 7th place finish in the individual scoring race in the council. The team itself wound up fourth in the council and qualified for the sectional match. Bob Yorio was the Dutchmen high man in the sectionals, and was aided by senior Mike Mattice and junior Craig Swider. The bowling team certainly has a future at Guilderland, both for scholastic competition and enjoyable relaxation.

The 1967 Guilderland baseball team, led by co-captains Curt Tucker and Mike Crook, turned in another excellent performance. The 8-4 Suburban Council ledger earned them a tie for the championship with Bethlehem in a down-to-the-wire pennant race. At the end of the season, Guilderland defeated Scotia in the sectional quarter-finals but lost to Saratoga in the semifinals. Curt Tucker led the team with a .404 batting average and a tremendous 7-1 pitching record.

The 1968 squad will be led by co-captains Mark Havis and Rich Gifford, with many promising returnees and a talented group of underclassmen up from last year's 10-2 jayvee team.

The varsity wrestling team concluded its finest season in three years as it placed second in the Suburban Council with a 6-2 league mark and a 9-2 overall ledger. Led by tri-captains Ken Gralow, Pete Chakmakas, and John Hornbach, the grapplers won their first four matches before losing on a fault to Colonie. A 32-13 loss to Council champ Scotia was the only other defeat suffered by the Dutchmen. In the Suburban Council Tournament held at Guilderland, the team took fourth as John Chakmakas and John Hornbach took the Tournament in their weight-classes and then went on to the sectionals where they took second and fourth, respectively.

The jayvee team, under Coach Steenburgh, finished with an identical Council record of 6-2, losing the title in their season's final.

Guilderland fielded its first gymnastics team in 1968 under the mentorship of Coach Mullen and Mrs. Armstrong. Using the Altamont Elementary School for practice, the team prepared for its meets with such fine gymnastics teams as Linton, Mt. Pleasant, and Colonie. Seniors Dave Armstrong, Bill Cravotta, Bob Mattice, and Gavin Lowder were steady performers along with sophomore Chuck Ebetino and junior Mark Armstrong.

The girls' team is a very young squad made up mostly of junior high students, and after a few years one can be sure that it will be a team to reckon with.

The 1967 basketball season had to be considered a successful one, both on the varsity and junior varsity levels. The varsity finished with its finest record in years, sporting a 9-7 council record and a 10-8 overall mark.

The scoring attack was paced by senior Gordie Perlee, whose 14.5 points per game and 10 rebounds per game led the team in both departments.

The Dutchmen opened the season with a 62-54 victory over Niskayuna behind Perlee's 22 points, the season high for a Guilderland player. A foul plagued Dutchmen quintet bowed to Scotia in its next contest, but the Guilders then beat powerful Bethlehem and mighty Mohonasen to provide two big upsets early in the season.

Burnt Hills was the next victim as the Big Red flexed their offensive muscles and routed the Spartans, 83-55, for their fifth win against one loss. The Amsterdam Christmas Tournament found the Dutchmen splitting two games, losing to Amsterdam but defeating Hudson, 64-52.

A three game losing streak followed the Christmas Tournament as the Guilders dropped games to Shaker, Columbia, and Colonie before a 15 point effort from Dave Riggs sparked the Dutchmen to a 60-43 win over Nisayuna. A double overtime loss to Scotia followed despite a 19 point performance from Riggs, and this was followed by losses to Bethlehem and Mohonasen. Council cellar dweller Burnt Hills took a 65-59 beating from the Guilders as Mark Havis threw in 16 points and Perlee added 15 more.

The Big Red then pulled off the first of three consecutive upsets with a tremendous 73-53 trouncing of Shaker. Perlee's 18 points and Meyl's 13 points upset Columbia next. Finally the Dutchmen upset Council Champion Colonie, 76-67, with Perlee scoring 21 points and Rich Gifford with 16.

The jayvee, under Coach Seaman, copped the Suburban Council crown with a 16-0 record, the first undefeated jayvee team in Council history. Led by Council scoring champ, Kevin Legg, the Redmen had to go down to the wire in taking a thrilling 64-63 season final from Colonie.

1968 marked a beginning year for indoor track at Guilderland. Coaches Roach and Drake organized the school's first indoor team and entered it in the only indoor track league in the area—the Tri-City Capital Indoor Track League. Ten teams, including Suburban Council foes Shaker and Colonie, were in the league and provided tough competition throughout the season. For a first year team, the Dutchmen did quite well and were paced individually by Jim Murphy in the 300, Mike Henry in the 600, Captain Rick Liese in the Mile, Jim O'Brien in the 1000, and Gene Lajeunesse and Pete Eastwood in the shot. Other fine performances were handed in by Dan Prewitt in the hurdles, Rick Polsonelli in the 60 yd. dash, and John Brittel in the 1000 and the two mile.

They also saw to it that copies of the Alma Mater were passed out at home basketball games so that G.C.H.S. fans could join the cheerleaders as they sang our school song at half-time of the Varsity games. Activities

The clubs of Guilderland form an integral part of the social structure of school life. The clubs are, for the most part, the only opportunity students get to converse with each other. The clubs perform as much for the individual as they do for the community. The various drives, fund raisings, dances, and entertainments serve the student and the town. The groups of Guilderland prove the efficiency and the potential of adolescents. The clubs offer opportunities for self-satisfaction, as they require the assumption of responsibility. Because of extra-curricular activities, relationships with the administration, faculty, and other students are not only academic. Through the various organizations students are able to register complaints and requests. Our school is not judged solely by scholastic records, but also by the means we employ to mold individuals into well-rounded personalities. Guilderland has an activity to satisfy all facets of the individual.

The TAWASENTHAN, under the fine assistance and direction of advisor Mr. Arthur Jewell and 1968 editor Pat Osterhout, has become a very important part of G.C.H.S. This year's sectionheads, assisted by volunteering students, have provided a successful staff for our 1968 yearbook. All the trials and headaches of hard, conscientious work and fast approaching deadlines fade into the background as we view another fine TAWASENTHAN.

The Theme of the book serves to co-ordinate the sections with a running title on each page. This aids in bringing the entire significance of the book into focus. Curriculum identifies the faculty and administration and provides a lasting remembrance of all our high school teachers. The Senior and Underclassmen sections portray the entire student body, with the Senior sections recording all our extracurricular activities and future ambitions. The Sports section concentrates on recounting all athletic events throughout the year. Activities present the many phases of extracurricular and social interests at Guilderland. Business ads, patrons and personal contributions are received through the efforts of the Advertising section. It is the responsibility of this section to meet the final cost of the TAWASENTHAN.

Our yearbook has progressed over the years, but this year the staff has shown great effort to put forth a prize-winning book.

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS: Jean Sands, recording secretary; Hiroshi Hoshino, treasurer; Pat Osterhout, vice president; Sue Naginey, corresponding secretary; Scott Preston, president.

Student Council aims to establish better communications among the student body, faculty and administration. This year's officers: Scott Preston, president; Pat Osterhout, vice-president; Sue Naginey, corresponding secretary; Jean Sands, recording secretary; and Hiroshi Hoshino, treasurer; have put forth their best effort to help Student Council attain its goals.

Besides the annual food drive and numerous dances, Council established some new projects this year. In September, a tea was held for faculty, club officers and all new students to our district. The purpose of this tea was to give the new students an opportunity to see what clubs were available to them. Another new Council project is the Student Forum, composed of all class officers and club presidents. The entire student body is invited to attend and bring their criticisms and suggestions out in the open.

Other activities sponsored by Council include the Annual Food Drive, providing funds for American Field Service and maintaining the apple machine in the cafeteria. In the spring of the year Council begins to prepare for another year full of activity as they elect their officers in a school-wide campaign. Student Council, the seat of student opinion, is an important part of student life at Guilderland.

Honor Society promotes . . .

Honor Society Officers: Adele Asch, critic; Portia Gray, treasurer; Keith Johnson, vice president; Debbie Takes, president; Mary Beth Elze, secretary.

The profile of National Honor Society is scholarship, leadership, character, and service. These four qualities are used as a basis for admission of members. Once in Honor Society, students are encouraged to continue to demonstrate these qualities. This fall the club initiated an enrichment program for the school. Under this program various people have been brought to the school to speak on topics currently in the news.

Honor Society has also become involved with several money making projects such as: bakesales, car dries, dances and selling refreshments at basketball games in order to provide club funds. This year Honor Society also sponsored its first annual Hootenany, which was a great success. Each year the club donates money to the A.F.S. program and places an advertisement in the Tawasenthan.

This year Honor Society has one of the largest memberships G.C.H.S. has ever seen. This reflects not only on the students themselves but the quality of the school they attend. We can be proud of the excellent educational opportunities that Guilderland offers us.

Sceptre Service Officers: Helen Batters, president; Janet Raftogianis, treasurer; Rose Lawlor, secretary; Eileen Stephens, vice president.

Sceptre Service is a girls service organization which seeks to better the school by aiding it through various activities. This year Sceptre started off with their successful soiree in order to meet the new applicants. Following this, the annual Homecoming festivities took place. The highlight of this activity was the coronation of the queen and her court during halftime of the football game. For the benefit of the American Field Service, Sceptre holds the annual slave sale. The girls are auctioned off to the highest bidder and for two days they must fulfill any reasonable request of their masters. Funds are also raised for A.F.S. during Sceptre Service Week. Other activities include such things as initiating school spirit by selling booster badges at home games, taking care of banking procedures, serving at school banquets, and ushering at school functions.

Each year Sceptre awards a scholarship to an outstanding senior girl and contributions are made to the Nurses Welfare Fund. The year comes to a successful end as the girls sponsor a spring party at Cobb Memorial Home for the benefit of the children.

KEY CLUB OFFICERS: John Hornbach—treasurer, Rich Gifford—president, Mark Havis—secretary, Bill Meyl—vice-president.

The G.C.H.S. Key Club, sponsored by the Altamont Kiwanis, is a boys' service organization. Its members work throughout the school year presenting various programs and participating in service projects for the school, student body, and community.

Fall finds Key Club managing the concession stand and cleaning the grounds at all home football games. The sponsoring of the Ski Jump Dance, and the distribution of school pictures are also on the fall calander. During the winter months, the December Alumni Dance and Talent Show head the agenda. Party Night is an enjoyable evening held in the spring. Other services, such as ushering at concerts, serving at banquets, providing Air Raid Wardens, and joining with area Key Clubs in an effort to better the community are still more services rendered by Key Club. Much of the money earned by the club is donated to A.F.S. and the Scholarship Fund.

Key Club officers Rich Gifford (president), Bill Meyl (v.p.), Mark Havis (sec.), and John Hornbach (treas.) have good reason to believe that they head one of the most successful and outstanding clubs in the school.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes is a newly formed club at G.C.H.S. Its chief motive is to further the Christian attitude stressing the importance of God in our everyday lives. In October, the boys held a block dance which made a $300 profit. This money was used to sponsor a trip to Madison Square Garden to see the finals of the E.C.A.C. Holiday Tournament.

F.C.A. holds its monthly meetings at the National Commercial Bank. At the meeting, the boys discuss pertinent problems confronting today's youth. These discussions are supervised by various G.C.H.S. coaches but led by the officers and members. The money that F.C.A. makes is used for club purposes as well as a service fund. At Christmas, the boys gave money to a needy family in the area. It is also hoped that some members can be sent to a summer F.C.A. camp this year. Officers Rick Liese, Bill Meyl, Bob Goodrich and Mark Havis hope that this organization will continue to be as successful as it has been this year.

P. A. Announcers and Library Assistants

Debbie Savage, Ian Brown, Ginny James

Will students at G.C.H.S. ever forget the cheerful greetings of our friendly, morning P.A. Announcers as they welcome each new day? After leading the pledge of allegiance and pausing for a moment of meditation, Debbie, Ian, and Ginny proceed to inform us of all important school functions. Announcements of sports events, eighth period activities, and upcoming social events are brought to our attention over the morning P.A. To many, our P.A. Announcers' only duty is to let us know that another day in the busy life of G.C.H.S. is beginning. However, we know better.

The library assistants have proved to be a great help to Miss Ropke. These girls spend their free periods aiding students in locating books, signing passes, and keeping necessary silence in the library. Miss Ropke has taught her assistants the fundamentals of running a library. With their services she is able to keep up with her numerous responsibilities as our librarian.

Under the guidance of Mr. O'Connor, this year's F.T.A. has a very large membership. The Faculty Fishbowl is held in the fall with the Sadie Hawkins Dance heading the spring agenda. F.T.A. also sponsors numerous bakesales during the year. The profits from these activities are used for the F.T.A. Scholarship Fund, given every year to a worthy senior member of the club.

Russian Club was formed for the benefit of G.C.H.S. students studying the Russian language. Its purpose is to help advance its members knowledge of the cultural aspects of Russian civilization. A trip to New York was planned for a fall activity. Members toured the United Nations, listened to a Soviet Union staff representative speak, and then dined at Lemko Gardens, a Russian restaurant. Spring brought club members to the Russian Orthodox Monastery at Jordanville, New York. A picnic is also on the spring agenda, where members can try their luck at old Russian recipes. Miss Karen Knapp, advisor to Russian Club, has been the main force in the organization of the club. Her efforts have been greatly appreciated.

A.V. Club is formed for all students interested in projection equipment. Under the direction of Mr. Provencher, students learn how to operate projectors, tape recorders, and all related machines. We are very grateful to these students for helping to provide us with these educational facilities.

Ski Club—for those with a taste for the slopes.

Ski Club Officers: Jean Sands, secretary; John Wisnewski, president; Dave Cowan, treasurer; Lynn Marcil, vice-president.

The G.C.H.S. Ski Club has become one of the school's most popular extracurricular activities. Each meeting convokes a large body of enthusiastic students anxious to help get another trip under way. Every weekend busloads of skiers, both novices and experts, travel to a different ski resort for a day of enjoyable entertainment. Some of these slopes include Killington, Gore, Mount Snow, and Sugarbush. Due to the efficient leadership of Mr. Burda, the club's advisor, Ski Club is recognized as one of the finest organizations in the school.

George Niarchos and Lois Heflich are enthusiastically preparing to get ready to take their first trip up the slopes.

Band, Choir, and Orchestra . . .

S. Lawton, treasurer; D. Savage, president; M. Milks, vice-president; M. B. Elze, secretary.

Each year's choir differs from that of previous years. The director, Mr. Richard Wagner, stresses theory and culture along with the basic learning of notes.

This year's undertaking during the Christmas season are: concerts at G.C.H.S., Colonie Center, the Ann Lee Home for the Aged, and the annual concert at the National Savings Bank in downtown Albany.

For Palm Sunday, culture and beauty take over in the form of the "Messiah", by Handel, a challenging but richly rewarding piece of music. Throughout the year, choir has surmounted many difficulties to remain one of the best choirs in the area.

Choir members wait for Mr. Wagner to begin another daily practice.

Band

BAND OFFICERS: Vince Bonafide, Business Manager; Scott Preston, President; Krist Palmer, Librarian; Val Hobson, Treasurer; Les Herchenroder, Secretary.

Each September, our school band director, Mr. Herman Gresens, is confronted with the task of whipping sixty-five eager students into a top notch musical organization competent to play at home football games. Without disagreement our band is a welcome accompaniment during the Alma Mater. Every year the band is invited to perform in parade and community events. This year, band traveled to Expo '67 for a special concert. Selected groups composed of band members include brass quintets, woodwind choirs, dance band and a five piece jazz combo. Much of the band's success is due to Band Parent's As Association, a group of parents who help earn money to promote the progress of the organization.

Orchestra

One of the finest cultural organizations of G.C.H.S. is our high school orchestra. Members of orchestra benefit from the skilled instruction of their director, Mrs. McGowan. In addition, individual lessons are given to encourage the talents of these musical students. Orchestra displays its talent to the school at various concerts scheduled throughout the year. We are very grateful to students in Orchestra for these fine entertaining programs.

L'Ocean

The continuous efforts of the hardworking Class of '68 culminated in a very successful Junior Prom entitled L'Ocean. For all those who attended, it was truly a memorable night. The gym was transformed into a mysterious underwater spectacle with a large coral reef and a delightful array of bubbles, fish, and flowers. A huge castle served as an excellent background for the entrance of the 1967 Junior Prom Court. To continue the theme, goldfish in various colored bowls served as favors. The entire atmosphere provided an air of underwater fantasy.

The climax of the evening was the Coronation. After being crowned, Queen Debbie Savage and King Bill Meyl led their Court members in the traditional Royal Dance. At 12:00, the Prom was concluded but the night was by no means over. Many couples went to Jamaica Inn or Golden Fox for a hearty snack. The weekend was finally brought to a close the following day after a class picnic at Thatcher Park.

The Senior Ball, without a doubt, is one of the most anticipated events of high school life. For the Class of 1967, "Fantasia" was a huge success. The Seniors worked diligently throughout the spring preparing for this memorable occasion. The decorations, outlined in bright fluorescent lighting, set the mood for a modern, psychedelic atmosphere.

The presentation of the Senior Ball Court was the highlight of the evening. Queen Carol Furey and King Bill Foland were crowned by last year's Queen and King, Bonnie MacDowell and Pat Gabriel.

Proceeding the ball were several all-night activities sponsored by senior parents. A buffet supper, bowling, miniature golf, movies and the early breakfast the following morning kept the energetic seniors entertained throughout the night. Picnics at various area sites were scheduled for Sunday afternoon.

Members of the Senior Class would like to express their appreciation to their class advisor, Mr. Ronald Pryor, and the Senior parents for helping to make this weekend such a great success.

Hirochi,

HIROSHI HOSHINO
JAPAN

I would like to thank you for giving me this wonderful opportunity to spend my last year in high school in Guilderland. It has always been my great pleasure to meet, get to know, and make friends with new people, but never before have I felt this more than my stay here this year. This year is full of unforgettable memories.

Thinking of the differences between Japanese and American students, I am envious of American students. You are exposed to many activities in which you can widen your point of view. In Japan, where the competition is so great, students tend to regard their fellow students as enemies rather than fellow comrades. We are forced to keep ourselves isolated from others and concentrate solely on our work. Therefore, everyone is usually judged only by what grade he can attain at school or on tests. No matter how well a Japanese student can play an instrument to entertain people or how well he can draw landscapes, his talents are regarded as trivial sidetracks compared to his academic achievement.

However, the situation is totally different in Guilderland. Everyone here has an equal chance to succeed in some phases of high school life, whether it be academic, athletic or social.

There is only one thing which makes me sad and that is the war situation in Viet Nam. No matter how hard we must study in Japan, pushing others aside for academic success, we are not exposed to killing people or being killed in the muddy, bloody, battlefield of Viet Nam. Our valuable lives are not exposed to this artificial, merciless, mass slaughtering of our fellow human beings. The thought of my classmates being involved in this war before long pains me bitterly. I had not thought of this seriously before coming to America. As a citizen of a country which was the first to be A-bombed, I pray to God that the war will end as soon as possible.

As fleeting time rapidly passes this year away, nothing pleases me more than the fact that I did something other than just enjoy myself under these foreign and impressive skies of America.

Shingo

SHINGO MINIMIDE
JAPAN

Shingo arrived in the United States on August 23, 1967 from "The Land of the Rising Sun", Japan, to spend the 1967-68 school year at Guilderland. Unlike many of the annual exchange students of the past, Shingo is visiting the United States through a private arrangement made by his father.

Shingo has been hampered by a limited knowledge of the English language. He spoke almost no English at first, but his vocabulary has been increasing steadily. He has improved as a result of conscientious study on his part.

There are many differences between the United States and Japan culturally. Shingo explains, "I am surprised at some of your customs. For example, dating. In Japanese high schools, boys and girls are rarely seen alone together on a date. We usually date in groups of ten or twelve. It would be unusual for a boy to ask a girl to a movie without inviting other couples." Shingo continues to say, "Our high schools don't have scheduled dances like American schools do. But I like to come to your dances because I enjoy making friends and having fun." Shingo also points out that all public high school students in Japan are required by law to wear a school uniform. For boys, this would include dark pants, white shirt and dark cap. Girls wear dark skirts and white blouses.

School life has been very interesting for Shingo. Besides the dances, he has participated in the band, performed the NOH play in assemblies and taken a trip to New York City with the band. He commented on New York City by saying, "Buildings are never that tall in Japan!"

Next year, Shingo plans to attend a private school somewhere in New England. This is for the purpose of increasing his fluency in our language to a commensurate level with Americans of his own age.

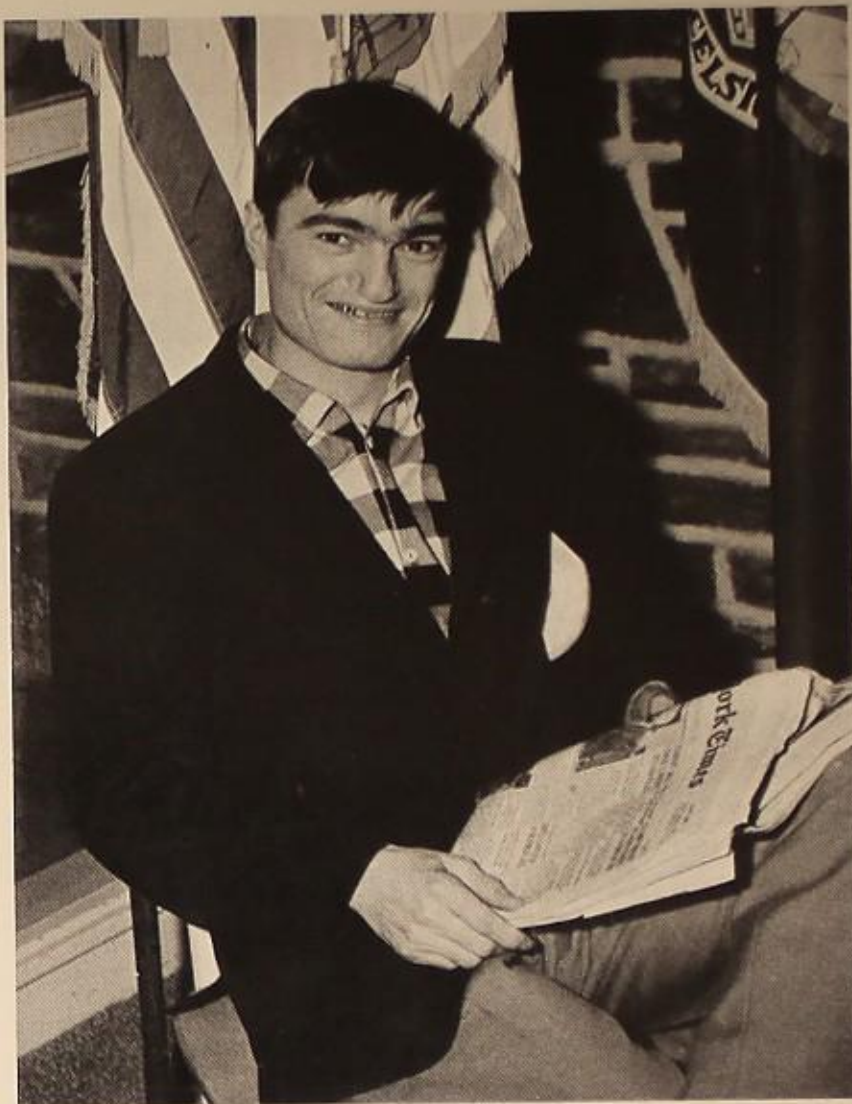

Shingo entertains Mario Girotti, a famous Italian movie star.

Shingo and Miss Yoko Hosagawa pose with the Riggs family.

TURKEY

Enver receives congratulations at his graduation ceremonies.

I am very grateful to you for providing me a page in this year book. I have a lot of things to say to you, but it is impossible to talk about everything.

I am happy for being in the United States of America because I see the same perception of fraternity among the people as we have in Turkey. I do hope this sense of understanding between people will continue forever under the light of civilization.

I have seen some differences between Turkey and the United States. I want to examine and discuss the different angles from which Americans and the Turkish people view the same things. As you know, it takes a long time to adjust one's knowledge to new or different methods of learning in a totally different surrounding.

What should I say? A goodbye for forever or for a long time? I really have no way of knowing. Yet, goodbye to all of you.

Enver enjoys the relaxing atmosphere of the Johnson home.

Miki,

RUTH (MIKI) KALPINS
CHILI

In March, when Miki was preparing for her departure from America, Yearbook asked her to write an open letter of farewell to the student body. Miki willingly complied and the day before she left we received this letter:

"I came in the cold and I'm leaving in the cold but I enjoyed every minute of my stay at Guilderland. In Chile, the only snow we have is in the mountains. I was delighted with the snow falls, ice, and even the cold, windy, below zero days.

Chilean teens are much like Americans. We share common ideas and goals. For entertainment we ski, dance, swim and go to the movies, also. However, we don't have bowling in Chile and I have found this to be a very relaxing pastime in America.

I was able to come to Guilderland through the Open Door Policy which lasts for ten weeks. While I was here, "Open Door" provided me with a sightseeing tour through New York City and Washington, D.C. I also went to New York City with Project '68.

I would like to take this opportunity to extend my thanks to my many new friends for making my stay the best possible. My family, together with the whole school, provided me with a pleasant and unforgettable summer.

Thanks again!

PAT OSTERHOUT

Pat arrives in Costa Rica.

I can remember when I was told that I was going to spend ten weeks in Costa Rica—I could hardly find it on the map because it was so small. However, after I arrived there I began to realize how appropriate our saying, "Good things come in small packages" was for Costa Rica.

My voyage began on the 26th of June when I flew from Miami to San José, the capital and largest city of Costa Rica. San José was to be my home for the next ten weeks. I was warmly greeted by my family of seven and graciously accepted into their home. A great deal of my first few weeks was spent with my mother who taught me to cook many "tican" dishes and, in general, taught me this new way of life. Evenings were spent enjoying the cultural aspects of this gracious country with my four sisters and sixteen-year-old brother.

A typical day began at 5:00 A.M. Student life is based on the European style of taking fifteen subjects a year. There are no co-educational schools, but the schools often join together for social activities. Education is mandatory through the third grade, and at this time a family must decide whether their child should further his education or go out and work to help support the family needs. The children value their education highly.

Costa Rica is a changing nation. The people are attempting to move ahead rapidly as they continue to enjoy their traditional culture. Visits to the large cities showed modern industrial centers on the rise. Outside these cities we found the warm tiny farm villages where people lived much as their ancestors did. The old traditions of love serenades, religious pilgrimages, and "quince anos" celebrations captured the color of old Costa Rica. The people are proud of their country, and they took great joy in helping us become acquainted with it.

The last three weeks of my stay in Costa Rica were carefully planned by the A.F.S. organization in San José. A series of tours were organized, taking us to various industrial, cultural, and natural attractions within the country. Seeing such things as volcanic craters, sugar plantations, and ancient Spanish remains made the last few weeks as educational and delightful as the first.

The summer came to a sorrowful end on September 5th. Now, as I look back, I have but memories of those ten wonderful weeks. My thanks go to the many people who sponsored my trip abroad.

Muchas gracias.

Through the years, students and teachers have changed. For the students on these pages it has been an exciting experience. This generation has been faced with a certain challenge and has met it with zest and enthusiasm. Through clubs, athletics, and academic study, students have enriched their character and have become a little bit different from the person next to them. Guilderland has been a probing ground—an exploratory period. The faculty, too, have gained. They have given a part of themselves and have helped shape hundreds of students' lives. But, most of all, Guilderland Central High School has gained. The potential citizens of our country have passed through the school. All have contributed much, but also have a debt. The days, hours, and minutes spent have reaped many benefits, and the contributions and debts balance out for now, but not for long, because in the future lies the greater and wider challenge of life.
